DESCRIPTION

Crafted from eco-friendly RPET fabric, this cooler bag offers excellent resistance to wear and tearing, making it suitable for daily commuting, work, school, or outdoor use. The interior features a heat-pressed PEVA lining that delivers effective insulation to keep food and drinks fresh for longer, while also being leak-resistant and easy to clean. Designed for versatile carrying, it includes a reinforced top handle for hand carry and an adjustable shoulder strap with a padded section to ensure comfortable wear over extended periods. The front panel is equipped with three layered zippered pockets, providing ample space to organize utensils, snacks, and small essentials, while a reflective strip adds an extra level of visibility and safety in low-light conditions. An additional back pocket offers convenient storage for items that need quick access. With its thoughtful multi-compartment layout and durable construction, this lunch bag is a practical and reliable choice for everyday use.
