DESCRIPTION

This portable detachable camping stool is designed for compact seating during outdoor activities and gatherings. The frame is constructed from cold rolled steel tubes that can be fully disassembled for storage and transport. The seat is made from Oxford fabric, providing a flexible surface for short-term use. The structure allows users to assemble and disassemble the stool as needed, helping reduce storage space when not in use. Its compact packed size makes it suitable for carrying to camping trips, outdoor events, and travel situations where space efficiency is required.
