DESCRIPTION

This 26L outdoor hiking backpack is made from waterproof nylon, offering lightweight durability and dependable protection for hiking, trekking, and everyday outdoor use. It features a spacious main compartment, a front zippered pocket for quick-access items, and a top pocket for small essentials. A dedicated trekking pole attachment system allows you to securely fasten trekking poles when not in use, keeping your hands free on the trail. The front panel includes external attachment loops for hanging additional gear, while a reflective strip at the bottom improves visibility in low-light conditions. For comfort and safety, the backpack is designed with adjustable, breathable shoulder straps that include a phone pocket for easy access, as well as an integrated emergency whistle. With its practical 26L capacity and ergonomic design, this unisex daypack is ideal for hiking, camping, travel, commuting, and daily adventures.
